NO. 80[illegible] 31ST YEAR. COLORADO SPRINGS, COLO., THURSDAY, MARCH 19, 1903—TEN PAGES [illegible] FIVE CENTS

DEMOCRATS SELECT DELEGATES WHO WILL NOMINATE STRONG TICKET

The Democratic city primaries last evening developed a strong feeling of confidence in regard to the coming election; the large attendance and the interest manifested indicated the fight that will be made at the polls for the election of a Democratic city ticket.

There were no contests, and the harmony that prevailed showed that the party will conduct a business campaign. The freedom of the Democratic party of Colorado Springs from machine influences was plainly exemplified in the primaries. At the close the initial preparations were completed for the nominating convention next Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the district court room.

Delegates to the convention were selected in all the eight wards, the men each will bring representative of the best interests of the city. Wards 1, 2, 3, 5 and 8 met in the county court room and by representation filled the large room. Ward 4 adjourned until Saturday at 7 p. m. to nominate its candidate for alderman. Ward 6 did the same, while Ward 8 decided to meet tomorrow evening. Candidates for alderman will then be selected. Ward 2 appointed a committee to select a candidate, with instructions to fill vacancies. The candidate for Ward 1 is Frank A. Waters; for Ward 2, A. D. Jones, 4, Thomas Stark, 7, E. H. Kirk. The 83 delegates to the convention were all chosen.

Friends of the Democratic candidates for the city offices were present, and at every gathering confidence in the success of the ticket was expressed.

Several of the delegations agreed to abide by the unit rule, Ward 8's delegation making the proposition. Most of the prominent Democrats of the city were present at the various primaries, despite the inclemency of the evening.

Registration before the county clerk is proceeding slowly, however, and at the present rate many of the eligible voters of the city will be denied a right to express their preference at the coming election. At the recanvas of the votes last fall there were nearly 4,000 names stricken from the rolls for the reason that they had moved. Of this number only about 500 have so far registered, and Monday next is the last day for registration. Those who fail to be entered on the books by that time will not be allowed to vote. The office of the county clerk is open from 8 in the morning till 5 in the evening, and ample time is thus allowed during the day for the registration to be attended to.

SERIOUS EVENTS ARE EXPECTED

Lines of Railroad Entering the City from the West Are Washed Out—Over [illegible] Persons Are Stranded on Passenger Trains Surrounded by Many Miles of Water.

By Associated Press.

Memphis, Tenn., March 18.—The flood situation tonight shows a number of new and serious developments and there is scarcely a ray of hope for improved conditions, except in the fact that [illegible] the march of the [illegible] has ceased for the time being.

One of the most serious developments of the last 24 hours is the washing out of all lines of railway entering the city from the west and the complete tying up of railroad traffic through the Memphis gateway to that section. There have been no trains into or out of the city over the Memphis bridge and there is every indication that traffic cannot be resumed until the flood has subsided to a large degree. So suddenly did the rise come in the section of Arkansas across the river from Memphis after the St. Francis levee broke at Trices Landing that two passenger trains were caught between washed out points and are now surrounded by water on blind tracks in the overflow territory about three miles west of Bridge Junction, Ark. Aboard each of these trains were about 75 passengers and the crew, and tonight over 300 of these persons remain on the tracks with no prospect of being taken off until tomorrow or later. However, they are not considered to be in any danger and those who have returned from the surrounded trains report that the passengers are being well cared for by the railroad company.

The breaks occurred shortly after 8 o'clock last night, just after the westbound train on the Cotton Belt and Frisco had left Memphis. The Cotton Belt train left at 8 o'clock and had proceeded but a few miles when it encountered a section of flooded track. In attempting to cross the rails spread and the engine was partially derailed, preventing the train from moving in either direction. While in this condition the Frisco's Kansas City train approached from Memphis and with its assistance the Cotton Belt engine was pulled back on the track. In the meantime a serious washout had occurred between the trains and Memphis, and retreat to this city was completely cut off. All night the passengers were compelled to remain in the coaches while the water rose on every side and this morning there was not a particle of land in sight within a mile of their coaches.

Two trains are on the track of the Iron Mountain near Altmar, Ark. By taking risks several hand cars succeeded in reaching the water-bound trains today and about 50 passengers were brought to this city over submerged and shaky tracks. The remainder refused to attempt the return and are housed in the coaches, being fed by the railroad companies. Attached to the Frisco train is a dining car and adequate supplies were sent to them today on the handcars. The river here tonight shows 39.8 feet on the gauge, the highest stage ever recorded, and a rise of .2 since last night. The river is about stationary and it is possible that a fall may set in at any moment.

An effort was made today to send a steamboat and barges through the gap at Trices Landing for the rescue of persons and livestock in that district. On the way up the river the steamer was disabled and it returned to Memphis for repairs. Some persons were rescued from Marion, Ark., by means of skiffs, and the situation there is somewhat relieved. Some families and fully 200 negroes remain there in the second stories of buildings.

Memphis is filled with travelers who have been delayed on account of washouts west of the river but the railroads have made plans to relieve this congestion. Refugees continue to arrive in large numbers.

FLOOD AT NEW ORLEANS.

By Associated Press.

New Orleans, March 18.—The river at this point continues stationary, although a 16-mile wind is blowing and banked the flood three-tenths of a foot at one time today. The highest point recorded was 18.5 feet in 1897. The weather bureau has good grounds for its predictions that the water will reach the 21-foot mark.

COAL STRIKE COMMISSION REPORT IS PRESENTED

By Associated Press.

Washington, March 18.—Judge Gray, chairman, and Carroll D. Wright, recorder, of the anthracite strike commission, called on the president today and presented to him the report of the commission. It is a voluminous document, covering fully all phases of the controversy between the operators and miners. Both sides have promised to abide by the decision of the tribunal created by President Roosevelt.

At the conclusion of the interview with the president, Colonel Wright announced that the report would be made public at his office on Saturday. About the same time it will be placed in the hands of the representatives of the operators and miners, the parties directly in interest.

The report of the strike commission is unanimous. The members of the commission discussed the report at the dinner tonight, but their hands are tied so far as concerns any public disclosure of any features of the report.

ACCUSED MAY SEVER NECK AT MEMPHIS

By Associated Press.

Buffalo, N. Y., March 18.—A rumor was current tonight to the effect that Mrs. Mary Hull, mother-in-law of the late Edwin Burdick, who was murdered on February 27, had been seriously injured or was ill. Efforts were made to learn the real facts in the case but all requests at the Burdick residence for information were met by a refusal to discuss the subject.

By Associated Press.

Buffalo, N. Y., March 18.—Police Justice Murphy announced today that, owing to the illness of District Attorney Coatsworth, the inquest into the murder of Edwin L. Burdick would not be resumed until next Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. District Attorney Coatsworth is suffering from a severe cold which prevents him from speaking above a whisper. It is expected that the inquest will be concluded next Monday unless some new evidence of importance develops this week. Mrs. Burdick, Burdick's mother, and the man who shared the forgeries for the Pennells will probably be called on Monday. It is on good authority that the district attorney will also place in evidence a letter alleged to have been written to Mrs. [illegible] by Arthur Pennell several months ago. This letter was found in the Burdick home after the search of the house was made by the police. In the letter the following appears:

"I feel that I must kill Ed Burdick."

It was learned today that Mr. Pennell left a will in which Mrs. Pennell is named as sole executrix in the event of her survival. Three alternates are named to act should Mrs. Pennell die first. In view of the fact that Mrs. Pennell died so soon after her husband was killed it is suggested that the executors named in the will be allowed to act. The matter has not been definitely settled, and an administrator for the estate may be appointed by the court.

When Mrs. Burdick comes to the stand Monday she will probably be called upon to identify the letter mentioned above. She knew both the dead men, Burdick and Pennell, probably better than any one person in the world and her testimony promises to be the most important and interesting of the entire proceedings.

The details of the strained relations between the two dead men were gathered immediately after the murder of Burdick and before the death of Pennell. Pennell stated frankly to the authorities that the relations between himself and Burdick were "strained, very strained." In fact, after the murder of Burdick, Pennell spoke to others than the authorities of the hostility between him and Burdick. On the day he was first arranging to give out a statement for publication he spoke of part of what he intended to say.

"I deal with Burdick," said Pennell, referring to this part of the proposed statement. "Now, a may that it comes with all grace from me to abuse a dead man, but Burdick was no saint and when the time comes that I must make a statement in the newspapers in defense of myself from what other newspapers are printing about me, I intend to let people know just the kind of man he was, and then perhaps, some of them will turn a little of their time to him that they are now devoting to prying into my affairs. I did not like him and he did not like me, and we both knew it, and I have told the police frankly that we were not on good terms. His death coming at this time was one of the worst things that could have happened to me."

Notwithstanding all the talk about Pennell, however, the authorities are not consenting calmly to dump the Burdick murder tragedy on to a dead man. There are a number of points to be considered before any such branding of a dead man becomes a reality or even is accepted as being a part solution of the mystery. One of the criminal authorities is quoted as saying:

"There are several reasons to believe three things. First, that the murder was committed by more than one person; second, that at least one of the persons implicated was entirely familiar with the interior of the Burdick home and what perhaps is most important of all, is (third) that the murderer or murderers had no fear of interruption while at their work or immediately afterwards.

"On the first point I do not care to say much.

"As to the second point familiarity with the interior of the house, I may point to the fact that after the work was done the murderer washed his or her hands and must have known where a wash basin was to be found. That he or she washed his or her hands is sure for although there was blood on the inside knob of the den door there was no blood on the knob on the outer door to the house which had been purposely left open for the purpose of creating the impression that burglars had entered the house.

MEN LEAVE WORK AT MINES

Special to the Gazette.

Cripple Creek, March 18.—It is hard to say what the strike situation will result in, as today the men on several of the properties who quit last night returned to work, while on the other hand, the men walked out of two additional properties this afternoon.

President Moyer and the committee were in conference for two hours this morning in Victor. While there they received a communication from the Strong, Gold King and Ajax properties that no ore would be shipped to the United States Reduction & Refining company from these mines during the pending trouble.

Manager Cornish said that they were doing no mining at all on the Independence property. "We have only enough men at work to take care of the property and pumps, but I do hope the trouble will be of short duration," said he. Manager Fry of the Cripple Creek Sampling & Ore company said: "We are working today on the product from the Independence mine and will probably work until Thursday night before the men have all the ore delivered up. Then everything will be closed down as we will have nothing to do while the Independence is tied up."

Moyer's Statement

Shortly after noon today President Moyer of the Western Federation of Miners arrived in this city and spent the afternoon conferring with local union men, until it was time for him to leave for Denver. While Mr. Moyer would not state all that had been done at the conference in Victor this morning he had the following to say: "Upon developments this today I am satisfied that matters will be so adjusted as to safeguard the interests of the miners, mine owners and merchants of the district.

"The Strong and Gold King mine management notified the executive strike committee this morning that they proposed doing only development work at present, and that they will meet with the executive committee before any arrangements for shipments are made.

"The Ajax management has stated that it will not ship to the Colorado City plants and the men returned to work this morning. I shall leave for Denver at 4 o'clock this afternoon as my presence I believe is no longer needed in the camp."

About the Elkton

At 2 o'clock this afternoon Messrs. Clark, Aldrich and De La Vergne of the Elkton company met a committee composed of one member of the Western Miners union, one of the local trades and labor union, and W. H. Easterly, chairman of the district executive committee, and after a conference of over one hour it resulted in the promise by the Elkton officials that they would not ship to the Standard mill during the pending trouble.

The local committee then visited the Wright lease on the Thompson and the lessees working the dump of the Elkton and from the contractors the lessees notified them that their product of ore was of such a character that it could not be sent anywhere but to the Standard so they were notified that they would have to stop work. Shortly after twenty men, including about 40 working on these properties, either stopped work and joined the strikers.

Later in the day Messrs. Moyer and Mc De La Vergne met at the Antlers hotel and [illegible] the following statement: "If upon a review of the afternoon's work the strike situation in the district would have been settled. Tonight, as they were leaving the meeting, a change of mind of men [illegible] the assurance of talking to [illegible] operators when [illegible] at the meeting. Mr. De La Vergne [illegible] I have nothing to say about that but I can say that all our men on the Elkton mine will go to work tomorrow morning as usual and we expect to work right along."

Some Interviews

Manager Cornish of the Ajax mine remarked this morning: "I have laid [illegible] for [illegible] the property [illegible] on shipping to ore pending a settlement of the present difficulties and [illegible] we have [illegible] there are no [illegible] dealings [illegible] with anybody relative to [illegible] work."

Manager Fry of the Gold King said: "We are working today on the product from the Independence mine and will probably work until Thursday night before the men have all the ore delivered up. Then everything will be closed down as we will have nothing to do while the Independence is tied up."

PRESIDENT MOYER EXPECTED TO REACH DENVER TODAY

President Charles Moyer of the Western Federation of Miners has gone to Denver to confer with the executive officers of the federation to take steps to make the strike against the plants of the United States Reduction & Refining company as effective as possible. Two mines, the Stratton's Independence and the Granite, according to Mr. Moyer, are the only properties where a strike now exists, the other properties having made arrangements to ship no more ore to the plants called unfair.

Mr. Moyer passed through Colorado Springs last evening on his way to Denver. He arrived on the Short Line train from Cripple Creek at 6.4 o'clock and had ten minutes which was spent in conference with Charles Burr, representative of the federation and in charge of the strike at Colorado City. Mr. Burr met the president as he stepped off the Cripple Creek train and hurried with him into a chair car on the northbound Denver & Rio Grande train.

President Moyer talked freely of the situation in Cripple Creek.

Two Mines Out

"There is but two mines out now," he said, "Stratton's Independence and the Granite. The situation is very satisfactory, more so because of the action of the managements of those mines that have been shipping ore to the United States Reduction & Refining company in acceding to our demand that they discontinue. The Ajax went back to work this morning and all of the notified properties with the exceptions named."

Did you have an agreement with the management of the Gold King and Strong mines that they would not ship ore to the MacNeill plants? Paraded Mr. Moyer sarcastically.

"Yes. The agreements were made with Mr. MacDonald, superintendent. It was a verbal agreement, but Mr. MacDonald promised that the mines would not ship any more ore to any of the plants of the United States Reduction & Refining company."

Mr. Moyer was told that the agreement as reported had been denied by the management of the mines earlier in the day.

"That satisfies me," returned the president of the federation. "We are in a position to stop the shipment of ore to any of the unfair mills and we will stop it. They will get no more ore from the Cripple Creek district. The men walked out in a body, and not a man is working in the mines put under the bond except our pumpmen and engineers."

Goes Further

"If necessary the mines at Colorado Springs, should they be shipping to the plants of the United States Reduction & Refining company, will also be closed down. We do not anticipate this action, but if ore is shipped to the unfair mills we will cut off the supply from that or any other point in the state."

Mr. Moyer stated several small grievances were up for adjustment with President Burns of the Portland company, but they were not of important nature. He was asked what would be the next step of the federation officials.

"It will be our endeavor to stop the shipment of ore to any and all of the plants of the United States Reduction & Refining company at Florence, Canon City and elsewhere," was the reply.

Representative Burr reported to the president that the strike situation in Colorado City was satisfactory; that the Portland was constantly putting on union men and the Telluride management also.

Troops Move Today

There was no meeting yesterday of the Mine Owners association. The Standard mill is running without any diminution of force or work and there is nothing to indicate a strike is in progress beyond the pickets on surrounding the plant.

At 9 o'clock this morning the troops start for Denver and the two Colorado Springs companies for their homes here. A special Denver & Rio Grande train of two baggage cars and five coaches is in readiness and will transport them from Colorado City to Denver. General Bell returned from Denver yesterday afternoon and reported that there was nothing new in regard to the strike beyond the recall of the troops.

The men are in readiness to move. After mess this morning kits will be packed, tents taken down and the little that is to be done will occupy them having no time. The tents, stoves and stores will be loaded in the baggage car.

WILLIAM LENNOX SAYS NEW CONTRACTS

William Lennox, president of the Strong and a director of the Gold King companies, stated yesterday afternoon that these mines will continue to ship to the mills of the United States Reduction & Refining company.

"The men in our properties did not go out either yesterday or today," said Mr. Lennox. "There is not a word of truth in the published report that the Strong or Gold King management has entered into an agreement that their product would not be shipped to the mills of the United States Reduction & Refining company. Yesterday afternoon a request was made of us that we only ship ore to our bonded plant in the mill. It was a request that [illegible] of shipment of ore was made the strike leaders would be notified that [illegible] would be kept although it [illegible] one of our employes [illegible] with the management.

Are Under Contract

"We are bound to the United States people under contract. We ship our entire product to the United States. We do not ship to any other mill. We do not ship to any other mill for the present year. We have been shipping much to [illegible] but only [illegible] they were diverted from their regular home to the Standard people.

"We will continue to ship to the Standard. We have [illegible] today. We [illegible] another [illegible] ready in two or three days. I have not seen Mr. Moyer or heard from him directly or indirectly.

"Last evening Mr. Lennox was informed of the interview with President Moyer in which he said the agreement with the Strong and Gold King was through Mr. MacDonald.

"I have seen Mr. MacDonald and talked with him today," replied Mr. Lennox, "but have no information that such an agreement has been made."

The letter also stated that Colorado college was one out of only twenty six colleges in the country that would be allowed to enter students in this prize essay contest. The letter did not state what the other colleges were but it is supposed that the number includes some of the largest and best known institutions in the United States. The contest will be held sometime in May, and already a number of local students have signified their intention of writing essays.

Fire-Fighter's Story

How the Strongest Man in the Philadelphia Fire Department—Once the Weakest—Gained His Strength and Health by Using Swamp-Root, the Great Kidney and Bladder Remedy.

HERE'S the story of a man who was near death's door and was saved by using Swamp-Root.

If he came to you and said, "My friend, do you suffer with kidney trouble? Does your back ache? Do you feel bad all over and can't tell exactly what's the matter? Have you tried medicines or doctors without benefit? Are you about discouraged? Then do as I did, and get well. Use Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. I know it will cure you."

If he did this, would you believe him?

Wouldn't you, if you were a sufferer, follow his advice, knowing that he bore living, sentient, vital testimony to the wonderful virtues of this great natural remedy?

WELL, that is just what Hugo Hutt, the strongest man in the Philadelphia Fire Department, hero of a hundred battles with the flames, is doing now through the medium of this newspaper.

Hugo Hutt has been connected with the Philadelphia Fire Department for the past four years. He is stationed at the engine house at Nineteenth and Callowhill streets. Mr. Hutt is known as the strongest man in the Fire Department and has taken many prizes at athletic tournaments for his prowess in the field of sports.

He is also an ex-sergeant of the United States Infantry, having for several years been stationed at Fort Niobrara, Neb. Mr. Hutt also served with the Sixth Pennsylvania Regiment during the Spanish American war.

The cold weather of yesterday struck a blow of sadness to the hearts of the local baseball fans for Saturday is the first game of the season and no one wishes to miss the opportunity of seeing the Tigers perform with the West Denver High school nine. A letter was received from Denver yesterday in which the Denver team said preparations were being made to come to this city and that it was hoping for a victory. PACKARD DIDN'T LIKE TO LOSE "BILL" PRESTON

"Yes, I did like everything to have Preston and Dave Packard when he was here with the Detroit team. But I have my outfield already made up with Jones, Dykes and McHale and will be unable to use Bill," continued the Denver magnate. "Do you know I believe that Preston is the broadest fielder in the league. That man can cover the whole outfield and always watches the game. I have had players tell me that they were never afraid to leave their positions unguarded because they knew Bill would be there to back them up. He is a good stickler too, and I would not part with him were it not for my over-abundance of players."

THE WORKINGS OF A MACHINE.

ALDERMAN CAPELL'S letter, published exclusively in the Gazette, discloses an interesting state of affairs in the Republican party in this city.

After what Mr. Capell has said out of the fullness of his heart, and from a perfect knowledge of the situation, no Democrat can be accused of harshness in discussing the Republican machine.

Mr. Capell declares that.

"I believe the dictatorial policy of the Republican party of El Paso county by its so-called chairmen a menace to the institutions of a free government, destructive in its nature, and ruinous in its character, which evil should be remedied by the coming convention."

If these remarks are not straightforward and forceful, we do it has not been our pleasure to encounter any of late.

The beauty of it is that they are all so true, coming as they do from one who knows from experience what he is talking about

That the Republican machine is cold blooded is beyond doubt Many a good man has been slaughtered in days gone by, after faithful service in the party, to make room for one who could deliver more votes

That it is an oligarchy is equally true Having complete control over city and county affairs, it sets aside all question of fitness in its candidates except as a matter of expediency, and views all questions from the standpoint of politics.

It is for this very reason that Judge Harris is to be nominated on Saturday. Not because the machine has any special desire for Mr. Harris—its first love was McIntyre—but the bosses believe that it is absolutely necessary to have a man of prominence and standing in the community in order to get the votes.

There are many members of the party other than Alderman Capell who have felt the pressure of the machine in days gone by. There is an open revolt against the old-time methods this very year, and many independent and self-respecting Republicans threaten to bolt But whether they bolt or not, the party will still be dominated by the same old crowd of bosses as in days gone by. And if any further assurance of that fact were needed, Alderman Capell has given it to them.

A SERIOUS PROBLEM.

THE DENVER REPUBLICAN, evidently speaking with authority, declares in its Tuesday issue

"The withdrawal of W. H. McIntyre from the race for nomination for mayor on the Republican ticket has greatly simplified the local political situation in the opinion of prominent politicians, removing, as it does, the Wolcott candidate. Judge Ira Harris is the anti-Wolcott man for mayor, and is now the only candidate for nomination on the Republican ticket."

Alderman Capell in his letter of withdrawal from the race says.

"I understand that by my withdrawal the nomination of the Honorable Ira Harris for mayor is assured and, as I understand him to be an ardent supporter of the Honorable E O Wolcott for the United States senate and rather than have the Wolcott forces divided, I must respectfully decline the use of my name at this time for that office."

Judge Harris, according to these two authoritative opinions, is both "the anti-Wolcott candidate for mayor" and "an ardent supporter of Hon. E. O. Wolcott"

We suggest that our evening contemporary submit this problem to its staff palmist and obtain an expert opinion from him.

LAUNCHING OF THE SHAMROCK.

THE SHAMROCK III was launched yesterday at Glasgow with a great deal of enthusiasm. The central figure of the launching was, of course, Sir Thomas Lipton, that gallant sportsman who has made such splendid efforts to take the America's cup back with him to Great Britain.

The new Shamrock is, if all reports be true, a finer boat in every way than her predecessors. She represents the top notch of the genius of British designers Not an ounce of unnecessary weight is carried, and everything about the boat is made conducive to great speed As Sir Thomas says, "If the Americans can produce a still further improvement in yacht building, I shall begin to think they are a bit more than human"

Of course, all Americans expect to keep the cup on this side of the water. Nevertheless, all true sportsmen hope for a close contest, one in which the contest will not be over until the last race is sailed. And all can unite in praising the enterprise and sportsmanlike endeavor of Lipton in making three successive trials to regain British yachting supremacy.

The project for street signs containing advertisements is meeting with marked disfavor throughout the city. The Gazette today prints a communication signed by a number of representative citizens indicating the general feeling on the subject. Everybody feels the need of proper street signs, but if we are obliged to take with them a disfiguring advertisement, let us wait until such time as the city can afford to buy signs which shall be plain and neat and without embellishments

"The concentration of the Republicans of Colorado Springs on one candidate for mayor relieves the atmosphere considerably."—(Colorado Springs Dispatch to the Denver Republican.

Not at all; you should have heard McIntyre and Capell after their "withdrawal."

S. D. North, a Boston man, has been named as director of the census to succeed William R. Merriam This is a place that ex-Congressman "Dave" Mercer of Nebraska was hankering for, but no doubt he will be given something "equally as good."

Clark Mannis refused the other day to be photographed with the White house for a background. His ambition is to be photographed inside the White house rather than outside

THE DEMOCRATIC PRIMARIES.

THE Democratic primaries last night for the selection of candidates for aldermen and to name delegates to the city convention, were well attended and a great deal of enthusiasm was displayed

Aldermanic candidates were named in a portion of the wards, while in others the meetings were adjourned until a later day, for further consideration In all the wards where selections were made, representative business men and taxpayers were named

In the first ward Mr Frank A. Waters was the nominee Mr Waters has been a resident of Colorado Springs for many years He is a taxpayer and thoroughly acquainted with the city's needs. He is energetic and public spirited and the interests of the ward and the city in general will be safe in his hands

In ward No 2 Mr. A D Jones was named Mr. Jones is likewise a long time resident and property owner He is engaged now, as for a number of years past in the mining business He has always taken a deep interest in matters pertaining to the city's welfare

In ward four the nominee is Mr. Thomas Stark the well-known business man He has lived here for many years and latterly has been engaged in mining He is certain to make an energetic and capable city official if elected

The late hour at which the various primaries were concluded precludes extended mention of the candidates However, the Gazette will take occasion hereafter to discuss at length the qualifications of these and other nominees of the party, and feels no hesitancy in presenting them for the careful consideration and the suffrages of their fellow citizens

A ROCKEFELLER VICTORY.

THE ROCKEFELLER brothers residents of the village of North Tarrytown New York won a victory in the local election on Tuesday, and demonstrated that their ownership of the municipality was complete

The victory was won by characteristic Rockefeller methods

A colony of 200 Italians who are employed by the Rockefellers were brought to the polling places in automobiles, they were taken into the election booth and instructed how to vote they were given ballots with a cross marked in a circle under the Rockefeller emblem which, curiously enough was a safe All they had to do was to take the sample ballot into the booth and mark another just like it

Many of them could not understand the English language, and it is safe to say that not half a dozen of them had any conception whatever of the duties of American citizenship And yet it was a glorious victory The Rockefeller trustees and assessor are expected to deal gently with the property owned by these gentlemen in the township It is becoming quite the thing for large and wealthy land owners not only to evade their personal taxes in large cities but to elect assessors who will deal gently with them in small pocket boroughs thereby compelling the rest of the property owners to pay far more than their share of the taxation

DIALOGUES OF THE DAY.

ALDERMAN CAPELL—I thought I was to be a candidate for this office of mayor

The Machine You will kindly receive our permission before you begin to think It is a dangerous practice.

The general assembly yesterday defeated a measure for an amendment to the constitution designating smelters as public utilities in order that the treatment charges in such institutions might be regulated by law This is a proper disposal of this bill The loss the state government becomes mixed up in the business carried on by corporations or individuals the better it is for the state and for the business of the state Moreover it is difficult to conceive of the average legislative body making equitable rates for smelters or steel plants or dry goods concerns or things about which it knows nothing Such rates would be formulated a good deal more by prejudice than by justice

It is reported that many citizens are asking to have the grade set for their sidewalks gratis in accordance with the resolution passed by the city council a short time ago This indicates that many home-owners have determined to put in flag or cement sidewalks Many properties already have such sidewalks and it would be highly creditable to the public spirit of the people as well as an improvement to the appearance of the city if such sidewalks were continuous from end to end of the city

The new game law which is being passed by the general assembly makes an open season for mountain sheep from October 15 to 25 To be sure the season does not begin till 1907 but considering the scarcity of these beautiful animals and the chances of their utter extinction it ought not to begin at all

Senators Ball and Allee of Delaware have been invited to the White house to dine A senatorial certificate these days covers a multitude of sins and even Addicks may live in the hope of one day crossing his feet under the mahogany of the executive mansion

The local Wolcott organ accuses the Democrats of "trying to inject discord into the Republican ranks" It is quite unnecessary for the Democrats to do anything of the kind, especially when there are good Republican injectors like Capell handy.

The blacklist of habitual drunkards just issued in London under the new system shows three times as many women as men It seems to indicate that women even in drinking never do things by halves

Frederick Howe in the World's Work accuses Chicago of being "unfused" This is an arraignment sufficient to call forth a score of heavy editorials from the Chicago newspapers

'Football, baseball and rowing' is the way the sports are mentioned in the Harvard-Yale compact. Presumably this is the order of their importance in the student mind.

Curiously enough the motion to make the open season for ducks begin April 15 was made in the Colorado state senate by Senator Drake.

Among the other signs that the glad spring time has come are the various announcements of millinery openings.

BROWN AND THE PRESIDENCY.

Hon. Oscar S. Straus pointed out to Brown alumni last night that a Brown man may soon be president There are at least two chances of it. If Theodore Roosevelt should die, John Hay would succeed him. Or the Democrats might nominate and elect Richard Olney.—(Providence Journal.

OPEN PARLIAMENT

The Author of "Ariah-na-Pogue"

To the Editor of the Gazette The relations of things are so interlaced that by almost anything may hang a tale or a reminiscence Your pleasant reproduction on Tuesday of Dion Boucicault's modified replica of the sitting Irish song of '98 awakens memories of the days when the author of the 'Kissing Field' played Sir Charles Coldstream in the 'Used Up Man,' so cleverly adapted by him from the French "L Homme Blase" In those days the comparatively old Wallacks, removed from Broadway and Broome to Thirteenth and Broadway had a notable company, including Lester Wallack Sothern pere John Brougham, Blake Walcott Charles Fisher Mrs Hoey Mary Gannon and others of that rare order of players It not infrequently happened that the newspaper owl after a straining struggle with the make-up, homeward wending between the third and fourth of the gray hours dropping into one of the perpetually open restful, easy-lifting Broadway resorts, below Fourteenth Street for a snack and a sleeping potion, found there the debris of the cast of the last play, still playing billiards on the pretext for incidental humidies and seltzers Boucicault and Charles Fisher were the most tenacious of the late stayers Their skill at billiards was inversely to their capacity for brandy Odd scraps of comment on their own performance might be heard Boucicault would make an unmitigated scratch

You'll not take that from me, surely? Fisher would suggest

Oh! come Charles Boucicault would drawl in the thick voice of Sir Charles Coldstream a plain interpolish of Providence never to be declined

Rarely John Brougham arrived so late but when he did it was worth hours of sleep to hear him tell a story in the rich Irish of Sir Lucius O'Trigger

They are all gone who made many lazy hours move swiftly and if they are together there is a Parnassus that it would be very pleasant to drop into

There is, says the postmaster and it's a big fat letter too There's 8 cents due on it

Well, says the Irishman, just open it and read it to me, will you? My education was neglected in my youth

HOLBROOK & PERKINS

[illegible] AND WHO WAS WESTERN NEWSPAPERMAN

I wish I hadn't be now the thought most prominent in the mind of 17 year old George Neuman alias Dr and Big who has confessed to the charge of passing a forged check on W H Wise of this city and to the high time he has had during the last week at the Antlers hotel of this city and the Imperial hotel of Pueblo

He was brought from Pueblo early yesterday morning by Deputy Sheriff George W Dayton and taken at once to the county jail where he was placed under the care of Jailer John L Nelson The provisions of the new juvenile law however prohibit the incarceration in jail of boys under 16 years of age and he was kept at the home of the jailer in custody of the matron, Mrs John L Nelson

When seen there yesterday afternoon he was extremely penitent and declared that he would go back to Denver as soon as his trial had come off and try to forget his recent escapades

"I did about what the Gazette said I did" he stated "but I am glad that I was caught for the reason that had I not been there would doubtless have been more charges against me than there now are"

In response to a question asking the reason for his actions he stated "Well I could not get out at home possibly I was spoiling, and I guess it was but I thought I was being imposed upon and I mortified my father so that I thought I could not live at home any longer and I ran away

My father W H Neuman and my mother live on Park hill Denver and are well known there They have the respect of the neighborhood and I am sorry that I have done anything to mar their peace

My father is a foreman carpenter and has a good position I have always got to bed until this year and then I failed to attend for the reason that I wanted a short rest before beginning the work of the high school

I have never read any dime novels as some have stated and have never had any bad associates I merely had hatched out these schemes after I had run away from home

I left home Friday two weeks ago and for my last six days I worked in Denver then at night I bought one quinine for a drunk man at his request he giving me a $20 bill and when I took it back to him he told me to keep the change

This caused me some uneasy that I set to work scheming to offset wave of giving away with the result

I intend to go to school after I get back to Denver and behave myself

Neuman is an unusually bright boy for his age and uses the best of language in his recent written confession He will be arraigned before Judge Orr of the county court this morning at 10 o'clock and his trial will doubtless be set for the next day if this can all be got on

Under the provisions of the juvenile law the most severe punishment that can be given him will be a term in the industrial school at Golden or the Boys' home at Denver

The law permits of a jail sentence however in case of the first offense If Neuman is paroled he will be required to make a report to the court from time to time

His father has been telegraphed for and he will doubtless be in attendance at the arraignment today

It has transpired that the suit brought from Mr Wise and he sent him the additional $20 bill on the understanding that Mr Wise would not push the case against him

From all accounts Neuman is a most fascinating young man When at the Antlers he visited Pueblo and stopped at the best hotel and ordered and complained bitterly of the meal that he said the Pueblo hotel had served him with a bath

Prominent people of the city are protesting against the possibility of the street corners being disfaced with advertising signs As announced by this paper Tuesday Alderman Cupell is supporting the ordinance which has been introduced giving a company formed for the purpose power to erect such signs Following the publicity given to the matter by the Gazette has come a strong protest expressed in the following communication received by the Gazette yesterday

Colorado Springs March 17 1903

To the Editor of the Gazette

We note by Tuesday's Gazette that a bill has been introduced into the city council to give an advertising company authority to erect street signs and add a space below large enough to hold a fair sized advertisement

The convenience of citizens and particularly of tourists demands a more effective system of street numbering than we have at present but shall a city proud of its beauty taste and culture allow itself to be disfigured by such wholesale advertisement Hundreds promiscuously posted would detract sufficiently from the beauty and slightness of our city streets without this addition

Money may be saved by collaboration with an advertising company but if we cannot afford to fence our streets now as they should be let us wait until we can do so with dignity

[illegible] MEN ADDRESS THE [illegible]

The state convention of the National Reform association adjourned last night after adopting resolutions and electing an executive committee

The most important matter which came before the convention was the appointment of a committee, in conformity with a resolution which proposes conciliation is a preliminary step to the settlement of the strike

The gist of the resolution declared that recognition of God was necessary to the settlement of the contest between capital and labor The committee which was appointed to carry out the sense of the resolution was as follows, Rev Edward Bagnlin Rev James B Gregg and Rev E Evans Carrington, the three to appoint an additional three members to serve with them

Object to Smoot.

Another important resolution protested against the seating of Reed Smoot as United States senator from Utah, and called upon the Colorado legislature to join with the legislatures of other states in petitioning congress to call a constitutional convention for the purpose of prohibiting polygamy throughout the country The resolution of protest set forth that the religion of the Mormons was opposed to the fundamental tenets of Christianity and to the foundations of government.

Other resolutions were passed which condemned any institution or enactment which tended to destroy the sanctity of the Sabbath

Papers Read Yesterday

Two papers were read during the morning session one by Rev James B Gregg on "The Labor Problem," and the other on "The Saloon Menace" by Rev W L Davenport of Rocky Ford Both papers were well prepared and well read

The afternoon session was presided over by John L Dietrich and the principal paper of the session was read by Prof Edward S Parsons on "The Relation of the Home to Criminology"

This paper was pronounced to be one of the best read before the conference and may possibly be used by the association in pamphlet form

K R Babbitt presided at the evening session An executive committee was selected at this session consisting of Rev T H Atcheson of Denver Edward Bagnlin of this city J D Rankin of Denver Rev I K Miller of this city, Rev W B Craig of Pueblo and L H Goudy of this city, Mr Atcheson of Denver is the chairman of the committee

The only paper of the session was read by Rev R C Wylie of Pittsburg, Pa on "Existing Law as It Affects the Bible in the Schools"

Bible in the Schools.

He stated that in nine of the states of the union the supreme court had decided that the bible could not be excluded from the schools, in 11 of them the supreme court had decided that the bible could be used if desired, and in 18 public sentiment was strong enough to keep it there He stated further that only one state of the union had declared directly against it and that was the state of Wisconsin

The burden of his remarks was that the American history the American language literature and people were all founded on the Christian religion and that it was an absurdity to hold that the Christian religion could be taken out of the schools without outraging all of them

The sessions of the conference were closed by prayer from Dr Wylie after a resolution of thanks had been tendered those who had charge of the meetings and to the people of Colorado Springs

The executive committee will carry on the work laid down by the convention, and map out the new work ahead No place was set for the meeting of the next convention and it will be set by the committee

REPAIRS IN THE PORTLAND HOUSE

Large Force of Men at Work on Shaft No. 2 in Order That Work May Be Resumed as Soon as Possible--Streak of High Grade Ore Was Encountered in the Last Stake Mine.

Special to the Gazette.

Cripple Creek, March 18.—The work of repairing the damage caused by the explosion that occurred in the Portland shaft house No. 2 is being pushed with all speed which augurs well for the indefinite continuance of that portion of the big mine. Many parts of the machinery and engine will have to be purchased from the factory in the east, so it will be some time before the engine can be repaired. In the meantime, carpenters are at work on the shaft house repairing it, and a new gallows frame is being erected. It is believed that the cable has been recovered and that the damage done the shaft by the falling cages will be easily repaired, as at first it was supposed that this would be the hardest part of the repair work to be done. A large force of men are working on the shaft constantly in order to have it ready in the quickest time possible.

Lessee Hall, who has been working on block No. 45 of the Anaconda property, has received returns from a 17-ton shipment which netted the lessee three ounces in gold to the ton. Yesterday Mr. Hall was again rewarded by encountering a new shoot of ore on the property which from assays will average the entire width of the vein $40 to the ton. The new find was made 200 feet below the tunnel level and promises to make a heavy producer.

The lessee will send out another car of ore tomorrow.

An important strike was made at the 600-foot level in the Last Stake mine, which adjoins the Gold Coin property on the west. A narrow streak of high grade ore was encountered, which runs away up in the pictures. This property has had considerable ore for some time past but it was nothing of the character or value of that encountered yesterday. The property is owned by Boston capitalists.

Two sets of lessees are now operating on the Little Phil Sheridan claim, belonging to the Venture company, on Bull Cliffs, and while their prospects are very good, no ore of any value has been encountered as yet. One set of lessees has attained a depth of 80 feet and is now engaged in driving a crosscut at that depth to encounter what is believed to be the extension of the Smuggler vein of the Isabella company, while the other set of lessees is doing considerable prospecting work, but as yet has found nothing that looks like a shipping proposition.

Lessee Stafford operating the Mountain Monarch property of the Doctor Jack Pot company working through a tunnel above the town of Anaconda has encountered considerable good ore. The ore streak is now running about 18 inches in width and the lessee has commenced to stope on the ore and is saving it for a shipment.

WE PREDICT THE SUIT WILL BE DISMISSED

It is expected that the suit of the Venture corporation of London against the Stratton estate will be called up today in the United States court at Denver, Judge Marshall of Salt Lake City presiding.

The suit was brought for the sum of $6,000,000 and the allegations in the complaint have already been published. It is understood that a motion will be made by the defendants asking that the plaintiffs be required to make more specific complaint on certain points involved.

The reason Judge Marshall is presiding is because Judge Hallett, who regularly sits on this bench, was named in the will of W. S. Stratton as one of the commissioners to take care of the proposed Myron Stratton home. It was considered improper that he should preside at a case directly involving the Stratton estate.

THE PORTLAND MILL

K. S. Bernard president of the El Paso company spent yesterday in the district inspecting the property of the company. A telephone message received from him was to the effect that the conditions at the mine were of the best and that the ore bodies in the 160-foot level and the 315-foot level were holding out better than expected and improving in values. The principal production is coming from these two levels at the present time. There is a good body of low grade ore in these levels which is expected to work into high grade stuff in the lower workings and which will be followed out as soon as the water is drained from the lower workings.

LAST DOLLAR SHIPMENT

The Last Dollar property is maintaining the usual production of about 40 tons of ore per day and for a week the total shipments amounted to 40 carloads all of which went to the Colorado Springs. The grade of the rock is somewhere around $10 to the ton although no figures are given out.

WILL SINK KATINKA

A contract has been let on the August Flower of the Katinka properties on Gravel Hill for a shaft to be sunk to a depth of 700 feet and a hoist has been ordered sufficient to handle rock from a much greater depth. The property is under lease to Page and Waldrop of Cripple Creek. From the main shaft at a depth of 600 feet a production is being maintained of upwards of 50 tons per day of ore running around two ounces to the ton.

PROPERTIES WILL BE RESTARTED

It is expected that work will be started up in a short time on the Ruby and Necessity properties in the northern portion of the Cripple Creek district, although it is possible that the work may be postponed for a time on account of the strike situation. The properties belong to W. H. Colburn and associates of this city who intend to prosecute development from the present chart which is down over 400 feet. It is understood that there is already ore in sight in the property which shows shipping values and the work will consist of following out these values as well as of sinking the shaft and doing some prospecting.

OPHIR COMPANY RE-ELECTS ITS FORMER OFFICERS

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Ophir Mining and Milling company was held Tuesday at the offices of the company in this city and the old officers were re-elected. They consist of Duncan Chisholm president, J. K. Lind vice president and John Matthews secretary. The company owns the Dead Pine and Carbonate Queen claims on Battle mountain adjoining the Eclipse property of the company of the same name.

The business of the company aside from the election of officers consisted simply in receiving the reports of the financial condition of the company. The property is equipped with a hoisting plant and two shaft houses.

GOLDEN CYCLE DIRECTORS DECIDE TO GO DEEPER

The directors of the Golden Cycle company will meet today to discuss the proposition of sinking the main shaft from the present depth of 1,000 feet to a depth of 1,200 feet and it is probable that the decision of the management will be to start the work of sinking the shaft at once. The property is said to be free from water at the present depth and no serious difficulty is expected at the 1,200 foot point.

Danger of Colds and Grip

The greatest danger from colds and grip is their resulting in pneumonia. If reasonable care is used however and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy taken all danger will be avoided. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy for these diseases we have yet to learn of a single one having resulted in pneumonia which shows conclusively that it is a certain preventive of that dangerous disease. It will cure a cold or an attack of the grip in less time than any other treatment. It is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by all druggists.

COLORADO SPRINGS MINING STOCK EXCHANGE

The mining stock market yesterday had a strong undertone and several stocks were higher. El Paso gained one-half cent, selling up to 57½ and C. K. & N. held strong at 14. Golden Cycle was weaker again, selling down to 72¾ but recovering to 72¾ at the close. Isabella sold down to 18¾.

Portland sold higher than for many days, one sale being made at $1.42. Bertrand Hill Alex was rather weak without change in price and National sold at 1. Gold Bond was in demand at 3⅛ and Rattler sold at 1⅜. There was no trading in the miscellaneous department.

EASTERN MARKETS

BOGGS LETTER.

Report of J. Boggs Roche & Co. to Otis & Hough.

New York, March 18.—Market today had a starter in the somewhat higher range of prices from London, the favorable outlook as regards the strike on New Haven road and a further advance in the price of copper metal and the announcement the banks lost to treasury since Friday only $80,000. Thus the strong tone at the close of yesterday's business was continued and while dealings were still small there was, nevertheless, a tendency to broaden and as the day progressed trading became more animated on more dealings with the result of higher prices.

There was a noticeable advance in So. Pacific and Union Pacific and the other railways acted in sympathy. The industrial list was also uniformly strong with moderate advances all along the list, the only exception being Amalgamated. Money remained at 5 to 5½ per cent.

McIntyre & Marshall. The improvement in today's market this afternoon was due to further covering of shorts and traders working on the bull side for a further upturn in anticipation of a good bank statement Saturday. There was an absence of any pressure to sell from any quarter which further indicated the comparatively sold out condition of the general market and when traders tried to cover during the afternoon simultaneously with the resumption of some pool buying they experienced difficulty in doing so without bidding up prices and under the leadership of St. Paul, Atchison, N. Y. C., Manhattan and the Trunk lines the whole list advanced to net gains ranging from ½ to 1 point. The rise in So. Pacific was due to operations by the bull pool in that stock. They called in the pool stock and this made the stock so scarce in the loan crowd it was extremely difficult to borrow and this with the bidding up of the prices helped to manipulate its advance which has been the chief object of the pool in its contest to secure control.

Chances seem to favor a continued narrow traders market and we do not expect to see anything better develop from the present speculation until there is a very decided improvement in the money situation and general outlook. The most favorable feature we see in the market at the moment favoring some firmness and further slight improvement is the most favorable technical speculative position of the market from its apparently sold-out condition and the presence of a fairly large short interest. We look for a favorable bank statement on Saturday.

GRAIN LETTER.

Report of Logan & Bryan (by Private Wire), to Otis & Hough.

Chicago, March 18. Wheat—Liverpool 1-8 to 1-4 higher. Paris ½ to ¾ higher. Antwerp unchanged. Market was very dull, outside interest is small, but local scalping interests were disposed to play for a reaction after the recent break. Prospect of a cold wave helped them to the extent of inducing the covering of some shorts. There is also said to be some inquiry for No. 2 wheat for shipment. On the whole, however, the situation is still a dull and uninteresting one. Argentine shipments are estimated at 1,200,000 for the week. There is nothing in cables to indicate anything other than dullness on top conditions and export demand as they now appear. There is nothing to make sales of wheat or the hard spots dangerous.

Estimated cars tomorrow: 15.

Corn. Liverpool 1-8 lower to 1-8 higher. The market was again active. There was further scatter selling pressure on the May stuff and apparently for their good buying for local account of the July. No change in the cash situation and pending the opening of navigation; only a short time off it is probably likely to dull May corn has had a lot of bear manipulation in apparently not fit for the moment and we are inclined to think it is worth the price.

Estimated cars tomorrow: 340.

Oats. To-day's fairly steady market. The trade thought Patten was buying May oats to a moderate extent and selling very freely. On the supposition that the new crop of oats will be normal one it looks to us following the crop of last year that July oats are high enough and may be sold with safety on the hard spots. Cash position is slow. Estimated cars tomorrow: 195.

Provisions. Market was moderately active and firmer. Receipts hogs at primary markets 900,000 against 86,000 last year. The strength in the market today seemed to come largely from covering of shorts. Houses with foreign connections seem to be covering freely and the scalping interests followed suit. There was some realizing by the large pork house. The feeling in provisions has we think been weakened some in the past week and on the action of the market we would sell the deferred futures on the hard spots. Shipments to-day 1,000,000 against 2,782,000. Total 9?? on against 1,536,000.

Denver Live Stock.

Denver, March 18. Cattle Receipts were liberal this morning but with the worst blizzard ever seen in progress trade was slow and dragging, buyers refusing to get out to look at the cattle. Trade was confined mostly to packers who took all of the fat stock offered at prices that were inclined to be weak, the bad weather undoubtedly having its influence on prices. The bulk of the best steer offerings were fed stuff from Nebraska which sold mostly at $4.00@4.40. Offerings of butcher stock were few, and of only fair quality, the best bringing $4.[illegible]. While the demand was fairly good the storm practically put a stop to trading before noon and all stock were hustled under cover. The storm was so bad that it was almost impossible to drive cattle to the scales later in the morning.

Hogs. The hog market took a decided drop this morning in sympathy with the east, the top selling at $7.[illegible]. Receipts were liberal and the market was over early. The bulk of sales were made at the top price. [illegible] good and buyers are talking of further of the drop, but [illegible] that the drop will be temporary, slump due to the more liberal supplies.

Sheep. Receipts were confined to few loads of mutton, which sold readily at [illegible]. Some fair ewes in light [illegible]. There is a good demand for prime [illegible] and very few are coming in.

An Epidemic of the Grip

There has been a great epidemic of the grip in this vicinity for the past two months, says W. P. Wilcox of Logan, N. Y. All of my customers that I could induce to try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy were cured without the aid of a doctor, only two employed a doctor and they did not use this remedy. They could have saved money by using it. Money is not all that this remedy saves. It saves health and sometimes life. Every cold or attack of the grip weakens the system, lowers the vitality and paves the way for more serious diseases. Make a friend of this remedy and it will save you health and wealth. For sale by all druggists.

PRETTY WEDDING OF WELL-KNOWN COUPLE IN MANITOU YESTERDAY

Miss Elaine G. Barrette and Mr. George H. Renn of Manitou were united in marriage yesterday morning. Only a small number of intimate friends witnessed the ceremony performed by the Rev. Father Casey assisted by Rev. Father O'Farrell of Denver, in the Catholic church.

Albert Barrette, the bride's brother, gave her away and her sister, Miss Leona Barrette, was bridesmaid. John D. Rogers of Colorado Springs was the best man.

A handsome blue traveling dress was worn by the bride. The bridesmaid was also in blue.

The newly wedded pair left for Denver by the 1 o'clock train, friends accompanying them to the depot to shower rice, etc., as symbols of the good luck desired for them. In a few days Mr. and Mrs. Renn will return and reside in their future home on Utah Pass avenue, Manitou.

SNORING HABIT GOT SHANNON INTO TROUBLE

The loud snoring of Thomas Shannon in the basement of the old city hall yesterday morning attracted the attention of a policeman, lodged him in jail and resulted in a row on his part to sweat off. Shannon had imbibed too much the night before and was feeling the worse for wear in the morning when he happened to pass along the side of the city hall building and was attracted by the inviting prospect of a sleep on the basement floor. He was roused from his bed and hurled before the chief of police who ordered him held for trial today.

Senator Platt and Secretary Shaw, with some others, were simultaneous callers on the president the other day. When Mr. Shaw took his leave he could not find his hat. "I make no charge," he said, "but Mr. Platt left before I did." The New York senator subsequently complained that somebody had traded hats with him, and each declares that the other got the better of the deal.—(Dallas News.)

Old Fashioned Medicines For Catarrh No Longer in Vogue

For many years past the usual treatment for catarrh diseases was with local douches, sprays, inhalers and liquid medicines composed principally of alcohol, all of which never cured but simply gave the temporary relief and stimulation.

A thorough cure can be made only by the treatment which removes the catarrhal poisons from the blood.

A new remedy which meets the requirements and which so far has been remarkably successful in curing catarrh is Stuart's Catarrh Tablets.

These tablets act upon the blood and mucous membrane only.

They can hardly be classed as a secret patent medicine as they are composed of such valuable remedies as blood root, Hydrastis, red gum of Eucalyptus tree and similar antiseptics combined in tablet form which cure by eliminating from the blood and mucous membrane the poisons of catarrh.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are a long pleasant lasting lozenge to be taken internally allowing them to dissolve in the mouth, thus reaching the throat, trachea and finally the stomach.

If dissolved they may also be dissolved in water and used as a douche, but in addition to the internal use, but it is not at all necessary to use a douche, a few of them dissolved in the mouth daily will be sufficient. However when there is much stoppage of the nose a douche made from the tablets will give immediate relief, but the regular daily use, internally, will cure the whole catarrhal trouble without resorting to the inconvenience of a douche.

Dr. Hemett states that the internal treatment of catarrh by means of pleasant medicinal tablets is rapidly taking the place of douches and local applications, and further says that probably the best and certainly the purest, made at present on the market is the Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, as no secret is made of their composition and all the really efficient catarrh remedies are composed of antiseptics.

Druggists sell Stuart's Catarrh Tablets at 50 cents for full size package, and he will tell you they are a more palatable, efficient and convenient catarrh cure known to the trade.

YESTERDAY [illegible]

Yesterday was chosen as opening day by several of the city millinery and the women who attempted to see all the hats displayed must have suffered blind sight from a confusion of bonnets, provided she lived over a dozen hours [illegible] while in attempting [illegible] the [illegible].

The spring opening of Mrs. [illegible] William Neeley's millinery [illegible] was given to the ladies [illegible] exhibiting [illegible] elegant goods [illegible]. In the pleasant [illegible] patrons there were a [illegible] glimpsing at [illegible] was duly appreciated [illegible] which at times overtaxed the capacity of their spacious store.

In the millinery department [illegible] found showings [illegible] styles of tailor [illegible] pulling what [illegible] can be selected [illegible] glimming at that figure [illegible] cartoon [illegible] elegant creation.

The wish [illegible] not more attractive and [illegible] pensive ones, well [illegible] be called perfect dreams [illegible] take the favorite [illegible] softest, sheerest materials such as crepe de chine, wash chiffon, china silk, etamine [illegible] elaborately trimmed with the heavy laces or silk embroidery in fancy stitches or French knots.

The styles shown are copies from imported models and much improved on. Among the splendid evening gowns was a rich white chantilly elaborately appliqued in pink and gold sequins with a double flounced skirt [illegible] tier of tiffeta.

Perhaps the most unique gown was that of black Russelle net polka dotted with straw and bands [illegible] the [illegible] skirt with black [illegible]. The drooping puffed sleeves were finished with a full fall of the lace [illegible] jetted trimmings and a belt of pale blue satin.

The millinery department presented a very handsome appearance. Red decorations prevailed and the [illegible] were ornamented with unique shades made of bunches of small poppies and the drapories were [illegible] with broad red ribbons. There was a cut display of artificial [illegible] which gave extra touches of rich coloring [illegible] off the displays of hats. French sailors and shirt waist hats in fancy mixed and plaid braids were trimmed with large velvet bows, both flat and standing together with bunches of foliage, fruits and flowers. There were samples of flower hats, masses of one kind of blossoms, poppies and [illegible] and all face hats in different [illegible]. As so loyal [illegible] hats [illegible] to match of black and white [illegible] and [illegible].

On account of the bad weather Misses Johnson and Wilbur announce that the opening in the suit and millinery department will be continued [illegible] days.

New York Store

The New York store on South Tejon street held an extensive opening in every department yesterday but particularly in the millinery section. Both imported and domestic novelties were shown and an eager crowd of much interested people monitored at the feminine portion of the city could not was present. Music both afternoon and evening by Pilka's orchestra was a delightful feature.

The great quantities of flowers, foliage and fruits on display marks this as a season of lavish trimmings and one too that sanctions daring combinations of colors. Blues are much admired, also everything in the champagne tintings.

Hats of violets or rose leaves finished with mauve and velvet were exhibited and appealed to find favor with those desiring something dainty. There were some large black hats in torpedo shape, one was trimmed with spangled net and a half wreath of forget-me-nots and cowslips. Another lovely large black hat of mousseline de soie with sweeping plume had the bandeau of black satin violets.

Throughout the tasteful arrangements reflected great credit upon the efficient buyers, Mr. and Mrs. S. D. McCracken, and their assistants in each department.

At Mrs. Remy's.

Mrs. Remy, 9 East Kiowa street exhibited some gorgeous dress hats yesterday at her spring opening, both imported and of her own designing. She had a large, special and exclusive line of tailored hats, tuscan milan and other fancy braids. These call for trimmings of flat wings, quills and cabochons.

Some of the hats best meriting a description were really so elaborate that words fail in the attempt. A fancy black and white satin straw faced with folds of the popular blue in mauve was trimmed with black grapes and shaded green leaves, also stingy rosettes of shaded green taffeta.

A large French hat of burnt straw with crown of white chiffon appliqued with straw, large half wreath of roses and leaves in shadings from champagne to pink had elaborate bands of wide pearl-white satin ribbon caught with fancy slides.

A hat of the finest fine straw over white chiffon and two black and white sweeping plumes was a charmingly becoming style. It was further embellished with an under brim trimming of small June roses embedded in moss.

Among the all-black hats was a particularly handsome one. It was made in the transparent effect and faced with jet pendents. On the outside a full scarf held with jet daggers, bands of white velvet and satin roses.

Mrs. Boyland's Display

Both afternoon and evening of yesterday Mrs. M. J. Boyland, 105 North Tejon street displayed her fine stock of millinery novelties, one is adjudged to be a fine line of dress capes and boas in lace and chiffon. As green is the rage this spring Mrs. Boyland's arrangements were decorated in that color very effectively. Each call was presented with a souvenir of a beautiful natural carnation.

The Annex Hat was on exhibition in a long plateau of different kinds of fancy braids, faced with lace and flower trimmed.

Some handsome hats were those of rose petals with trimming of graceful drooping foliage. One of French braid, a dazzling creation of vivid green and salmon colored rose buds, had a band of green velvet to match, with a bow of the light blue crepe de chine, lined and trimmed with blue panne satin ribbon and clusters of purple violets.

A medium sized turban of white felt fold in wave was much admired. The picture was of shaded leaves from green to a long plume to match, partly in the cache peigne effect. Still another hat was a white tulle [illegible] application was completely with [illegible] of lilac and white plumes [illegible] and white grapes.

A colonial pattern of black felt with sprinkle and jet was [illegible] was trimmed with French [illegible] the third pattern [illegible] plume [illegible] tulle from [illegible] the brim. The crown [illegible] and was completed with [illegible] of black.

Miner Painfully Injured in Second Level of the El Paso—Wedge Lode Litigation.

Cripple Creek Bureau.
Colorado Springs Gazette.

Cripple Creek, March 18.—The Democratic city primaries were held today to select delegates to the city convention, also to decide upon the aldermen for the several wards. The convention will be held next Saturday evening, and the Democratic voters of Cripple Creek are looking forward with interest to the announcement of the ticket which will be nominated, and the one that will carry everything before it at the coming spring election.

A large number of Democrats turned out today to vote at the primaries, although a light snow was falling all day. In two wards there were contesting factions, but everything went off very smoothly, indicating that the convention will also be harmonious.

MINER INJURED.—J. Snyder was painfully injured early this morning while at work in the stope from the second level of the El Paso mine. Snyder, who was operating a machine drill, suddenly was caught by a quantity of falling rock, which crushed his right leg. The unfortunate miner was removed to the surface and later taken to his home on Second street in this city, where he was given medical attention. This evening the injured man was getting along nicely, and it is believed that amputation will not be necessary.

ADVERSE SUIT.—An adverse suit was filed in the district court today, entitled Mary E. Brooks versus Z. Z. Ober. The property in conflict is the Wedge lode, and the plaintiff also asks for $200 damages and costs of suit.

...S AND GAME ... PASSED SENATE ...

Several Amendments Were Made by the Senate—House Committee Reported on Appropriations for State Institutions—Charges Made Against the Fuel Company.

Denver Bureau.
Colorado Springs Gazette.

Denver, March 18.—The fish and game bill, fixing the season for hunting and fishing, and providing penalties for violation of the law passed on second reading this afternoon, the senate having spent a great deal of time considering the measure, during the past few days. Several amendments were made in order to more efficiently protect the creatures to which rod and gun are a menace. The shooting seasons were arranged as follows: deer with horns, September 15 to 20, after 1908; mountain sheep and antelope, with horns, October 15 to 25, after 1908; elk, with horns, November 1 to 5, after 1908; prairie chickens, sage chickens and grouse, September 1 to October 20; wild turkeys, September 1 to October 20, after 1908. All water fowl and shore birds, September 16 to April 15, except above 7,000 feet altitude, when the season will be from September 15 to May 1, provided no food shall be placed within 100 yards of the shore or any blinds for decoying wild fowl. Doves, August 1 to August 30, after 1908. Created quail, November 1 to 30, after 1908; Bob White quail, October 1 to 31, after 1908; trout, not less than seven inches long and other fish, June 1 to October 31.

Senator McGuire's resolution providing that each senator select a preferred bill for consideration was before the senate this morning. The resolution specified that such selections were to be taken up in numerical order in which the bills were introduced. The resolution caused an hour's wrangle, finally passing.

Of Interest to Miners.

The bill to give the right of eminent domain to railroad carriers and give them the right to condemn right of way under and across another's property, upon the payment to the other of a proper compensation, passed on second reading. The measure is senate bill No. 90, by Senator Roberts, and during the discussion while it was being considered, Senator Hallett declared: "This bill is in favor of the poor miner who wants to work."

Senator Cornforth responded: "It is in favor of the man who wants to work his neighbor. This is one of those innocent-looking bills that if passed will turn out to take up valuable land, and will give the next fellow who comes to the mine the worst of the deal, and allow a wealthy corporation to rob poor people."

Senator Osborn thought that only companies organized exclusively to transport ores should be allowed the privilege of exercising the right to condemn another man's property, as it would cause many complications if mining companies are allowed the privilege.

There in favor of the bill contended that a drainage tunnel is the most economical method of mining, and as very rich shoots are rare, while low grade ores are plentiful, and can be worked profitably by this method, they contended that the bill would be a common carrier and would be beneficial to all concerned, that a poor man could not be imposed upon, as he has the right to resort to the courts and if this is done, the party working his property must stop operations and not take out any more ore.

House Proceedings.

In the house, proceedings this morning opened with the reading of a protest from the Miners union at Central City against the presence of troops in Colorado City. In view of the course taken by the governor in recalling the troops, the petition was laid on the table.

Representative Moler introduced the pure food measure and house bill No. 173 was placed on the calendar. After a good deal of wrangling it was decided to frame another bill, as three other representatives had bills and amendments embracing Mr. Moler's bill. It was decided to lay it over for a while until these amendments can be drawn up in proper shape to insert into the bill.

House bill No. 31 by Meserve was next considered. This is a bill appropriating $100,000 for continuing construction on the state canal No. 1, the canal beginning in the Royal gorge, and emptying on the Mesa between Canon City and Florence. It is estimated that $300,000 will be required to complete the canal.

For State Institutions.

The following bills were reported by the house appropriation committee: house bill No. 20, to appropriate $550,000 for the School for the Deaf and Blind; house bill No. 180, to appropriate $30,000 for the Home for Dependent and Neglected Children; house bill No. 322, to make an appropriation for the penitentiary. This appropriation had been cut from $250,000 to $200,000. House bill No. 124, to appropriate $25,000 for the Soldiers and Sailors Home; house bill No. 85, to make an appropriation for the reformatory. This was cut from $95,000 to $75,000; house bill No. 58, to make an appropriation for improvements at the reformatory. This bill was amended so that the amount would come out of the general fund, and was cut from $60,000 to $40,000; house bill No. 7, to make an appropriation for the Boys Industrial School, cut from $120,000 to $95,000. The contingent fund is limited to $125,000, and the state board of arbitration is left entirely out of the appropriation. One section in the general appropriation bill specifies that eight hours shall constitute a day's work for state employes at the capital.

Oil Gushers.

Big oil gushers have been found in northern Colorado and Wyoming. It is stated that plans are under way for extensive development of this field, and that some very rich strikes have recently been made. There have been reports of oil being found in different localities in southern Wyoming, but the news of this recent discovery has been suppressed and leaked out only this morning. It is said that eastern capital is coming in for development. Nothing has been said as to the progress made so far, or what results have been obtained.

Charges Against Fuel Co.

The Victor Fuel company is accused of taking coal from land not ceded from the state, and over which it has no authority. Written charges have been filed against the company named, and it is alleged that the company is not paying the state for all coal mined, and that the system in use by the company in weighing coal, is such that the state cannot obtain accurate figures of its output. It is probable that the lease of this company will be canceled at the end of next week, when the meeting of the land board takes place.

"MAKES PROPER DIGEST" PLEASING FORCE

...RGUMENTS BEGUN IN THE WABASH CASE

By Associated Press.

St. Louis, March 18.—Affidavits were finished and arguments commenced late this afternoon in the Wabash injunction suit.

Colonel Wells H. Blodgett, the leading counsel for the railroad, was the first to address the court and after he had spoken for an hour an adjournment was taken until tomorrow morning.

In opening his argument Colonel Blodgett declared:

"Our contention is that the employes of the Wabash road are not dissatisfied, that no alleged grievances originated with them, but with the defendants in this case.

"We claim that the grievances said to exist on the Wabash road originated with the defendants in this case and not with any of the employes of the company and as evidence of this I point out that there is not in one of the reports of the meetings of their grievance committee brought here by the defendants a single statement that any of these so-called grievances were ever discussed by that committee. These grievances must have originated somewhere and we claim that the proceedings of the grievance committee show they were made in accordance with the demands of the general committee of these two organizations as a foundation for their demand for official recognition of their union."

At this point in Colonel Blodgett's argument court adjourned until tomorrow.

Among the affidavits submitted by the railroad company today were those of John W. Schrader, who said that he was a member of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, that he was personally acquainted with Grand Master Morissey, and declared that he had heard Grand Master Morissey threaten to bring about a general tie up of all the Gould lines unless their organization was officially recognized by the Wabash road. Robert J. Robinson and C. W. Smith gave similar testimony concerning Mr. Morissey. Grand Master Hannahan of the firemen and Vice Grand Master Lee of the trainmen, saying that they had made statements to the effect that they would tie up the road and cripple its business if their demands were not granted.

In rebuttal Messrs. Morissey, Hannahan and Lee offered affidavits of an energetic denial. They declared the affidavits charging them with offering threats to tie up the road or injure its business were false in every particular and declared they had never before heard of the men who made them.

...ERNATE ARGUMENTS IN ... CASE

By Associated Press.

St. Louis, March 18.—For the first time in the history of the United States, and by the authority of a special act of congress passed last February, four United States circuit court judges are sitting together to hear arguments in a case, the cause being the fight of the government against the Northern Securities company of New Jersey in the celebrated merger suit. Under this special act the United States circuit court for the district of Minnesota is holding its session in St. Louis, in the appellate court room, and by this arrangement the case can go immediately from this court to the supreme court of the United States, whereas in the general court procedure it would necessarily go through the circuit court of appeals, and a delay of from two to three years would probably ensue. The hearing of the case in St. Louis is merely for the personal convenience of the parties concerned.

The four judges before whom the merger case is being argued are United States Circuit Court Judges Caldwell, Sanborn, Thayer and Vandeventer, Judge Caldwell presiding.

The attorneys for the government are Assistant Attorneys General James M. Beck and William H. Day, the special counsel D. T. Watson of Pittsburg, United States Attorney D. P. Dyer of St. Louis assisting.

The attorneys for the Northern Securities company are former Attorney General John W. Griggs, former Judge George B. Young of St. Paul, M. D. Grover, general attorney for the Great Northern railroad, and C. W. Bunn, general attorney for the Northern Pacific.

Most of today's session was taken up with the presentation of arguments for the government by Assistant Attorney General Beck. After he had concluded late in the afternoon, argument for the Northern Securities company was begun by Mr. Young.

Assistant Attorney General Beck began speaking soon after court convened at 10 o'clock, and with the exception of two hours of recess he spoke continuously until 3:52 p. m. The court room was crowded to hear the argument. Attorney Beck referred to the Wabash injunction case, which is being tried in the United States district court at the other end of the building, saying that the laws were such that employes of a railroad who did not own one cent of stock, or one rail of the road, could be enjoined from striking and thereby interfering with the interstate commerce act by stopping traffic, but that unless this court so rules the government would be powerless to prevent the owners of the road themselves from merging, preventing competition and thereby interfering with the points the interstate commerce acts sought to protect.

When Mr. Beck had finished, Mr. Young began argument in rebuttal of the Northern Securities company. He opened his article sketching the building of the Great Northern railroad and its extension to the Pacific coast. He explained that at the beginning it was almost impossible for the road to secure sufficient trade going east, and that a long time was spent in building up the lumber trade for traffic east from the coast. He then followed with a summary of the building up and branching out of the transpacific trade and the enlargement of the railroad interests. After Mr. Young had spoken for nearly three half an hour, court at 4:30 p. m. adjourned until tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock, at which time Mr. Young will continue his argument.

TO HUNT BLUE BEAR

By Associated Press.

New York, March 18.—To seek in Alaska wilds the blue or glacier bear, an animal so rare, that so far as is known only one has been killed and none captured, two English sportsmen, Captain Charles Eustace Radcliffe, a retired officer of the Life Guards, and Richard Fitzgerald Glynn of the First Royal dragoons, have been commissioned by the British museum to get a specimen of this animal, and have arrived here on their way to northern Alaska.

STERILIZED BARBER SHOP.

A Famous Shop in the Carrollton Hotel, Baltimore, Maryland.

The barber shop in the Carrollton hotel, Baltimore, sterilizes everything it uses in the shop. The sterilizing is done by heat. The towels, the razors, the strops, the soap, the combs and brushes are all sterilized before being used on a customer. Where there is no sterilization, have the barber use Newbro's Herpicide. It kills the dandruff germ, and it is an antiseptic for the scalp, and for the face after shaving. All hygienic barbers everywhere appreciate these potent facts about Herpicide and they use it. "Destroy the germ, you remove the effect."

Amusements

HOYT'S "A TRIP TO CHINATOWN."

Hoyt's plays are clever and the public revels in them. They are full of keen wit, kindly satire on the fads of the day, sparkling with wit and altogether possessing those qualities that are sure to put an audience in a happy frame of mind. They are built to amuse the people and they succeed emphatically. His "A Trip to Chinatown," which comes to the Opera house next Monday evening, has been given an entirely new musical setting. Into this play the late Charles Hoyt put some of his best and funniest observations and it is claimed by many to eclipse in brilliant merriment any of his other efforts. "A Trip to Chinatown" will be presented with entirely new scenery and stage effects, while it is claimed that the company is one of the best ever seen in the popular success and is headed by Wm. Keller Mack. Reserved seats are now on sale for this engagement at regular prices.

WA... NOTES

There is to be a house cleaning at the county poor farm—not a house cleaning of the usual order, for from all appearances that matter is looked after by the superintendent in a manner befitting—but it is the house of the prairie dog which is to be cleaned, not merely renovated, but cleaned out. The determination to order this extensive improvement was reached by the county commissioners after a visit to the farm day before yesterday.

The depredations of the prairie dogs have become more aggravated of late and the alfalfa fields have been ruined to a very large extent. The roots of the plants are gnawed off while they are young and tender and the leaves are dragged into the holes for food.

Strychnine or some other strong poison will doubtless be used in order to accomplish the desired result, which will be given to them on food of some sort. There are several hundred of the pests to be gotten rid of in this manner.

EVERY DAY SOME ONE MAKES GIFT TO Y. M. C. A.

Almost every day new gifts are being made to the Young Men's Christian association in the way of furnishings for its new building. Mrs. Edward Wetmore of Broadmoor has notified the furnishing committee of the Y. M. C. A. that she will furnish a suite of rooms on the third floor in memory of her father. The suite is composed of two rooms facing the park. There are about 25 young men now established in the new quarters.

Denver had 229, Pueblo 62, Boulder 17, Leadville 15 and Cripple Creek 16. The death rate in Colorado Springs was much less than that of Denver. There was a big decrease in the number of contagious diseases reported.

RAYMOND & WHITCOMB PARTY EN ROUTE TO THIS CITY

[illegible]lor-[illegible]ace Suits. [illegible]test Styles.

They're here. The STYLES are correct. The MATERIALS are the latest. The QUALITIES are the best. The PRICES are the lowest. The styles are fashion's most recent creations, the most noticeable changes being the collarless eton jacket, blouse effect, with postillion back or short skirts and pouch sleeves. The skirts are very full, tucked and kilted, but the flounce, so popular last year, has entirely disappeared.

The materials are of two distinct kinds—the soft clinging Crepes, Voiles and Etamines, and the nobby Scotch effects in heavier materials.

The prices range from $10.00 to $40.00.

Excellent Values S[illegible].25 New Materials.

Plain royal blue Etamine suit. Silk lined, collarless eton blouse, with double cape edged with black taffeta; postillion back; front has three box plaits; pouch sleeves; new full skirts.

Same style in blue or black Etamine, with hyphen-like dashes of white.

Blue and brown novelty homespun suit. Collarless eton blouse, prettily trimmed with braid; pouch sleeve; postillion back, flaring skirt, kilted at bottom.

Exceptional Values. S[illegible].50 Serviceable Goods.

Light weight Scotch Tweed mixtures in blue or grey. The collarless eton blouse with short skirt, has six broad tucks front and back, six tassel ornaments on front of blouse, pouch sleeves, with fancy cuffs, trimmed with buttons. The flaring skirt has nine gores, each tucked, and finished about knee with tassel ornaments.

Grey Zibeline suit. The collarless eton blouse with belted postillion back is edged with satin bands and trimmed with metal buttons, pouch sleeves, cuffs edged with satin. The full flare skirt has a kilted bottom and is unlined.

New Silk Coats

One especially stylish effect is a Paletot Coat made from and lined with excellent quality black Taffeta Silk. This blouse coat is collarless pleated and shirred front and back, very full pouch sleeve, upper part shirred, fancy cuff with tassel ornaments, graduated medium length skirt.

NEWLANDS ADVOCATES ANNEXATION OF CUBA

Proposed Amendment to Reciprocity Treaty Invites the Young Republic to Become a State of the Union Under the Constitution and Laws of the United States.

By Associated Press.

Washington, March 18.—Before adjourning at 7 o'clock tonight the senate entered into a unanimous agreement to vote on the Cuban reciprocity treaty at 3 o'clock tomorrow. The hope of seeing a vote today was disappointed by the discovery that there were more speeches to be made in opposition to the treaty than had been counted upon. Indeed, it was evident that this result could not have been accomplished but for the envious of senators to secure a final adjournment of the session.

The executive session covered six hours and was devoted largely to adverse criticisms of the treaty. During the day Senator Newlands made a plea for the annexation of Cuba and presented an amendment to the treaty tendering an invitation to that island to became a state of the American union.

The debate was participated in by Senators McEnery, Newlands, Spooner, Teller, Nelson, Cullom, Gorman, Bailey and Carmack.

By Associated Press.

Washington, March 18.—The race question was again discussed in the senate today. Mr Money spoke for two hours, his remarks having direct reference to the action of the president in closing the Indianola, Miss., postoffice. Mr. Money explained at the outset of his remarks that if he could secure unanimous consent for leave to print he would not take up the time of the senate. The sentiment of the senate seemed to be that remarks not delivered should not be spread on the Record. He therefore proceeded, and delivered himself of some severe strictures of the president, stating in the course of his remarks that Mr Roosevelt was not the president of America but the president of the black belt. At times he was closely interrogated by Messrs Foraker and Spooner.

It was the inherent and constitutional right of a great community, said Mr Money, to have its mail handled regularly. Letters, he said, which have been addressed to leading men, to important county officers residing at Indianola, have been sent to Greenville and this he declared was an unwarrantable interference with the liberty and rights of the people of Indianola. If it was intended to punish the people of Indianola in his opinion, the punishment had gone far enough. The department had shown to the world its authority, and nobody had disputed it. He declared that the postmaster general should do all he could to heal the breach and not continue stubborn and vindictive.

"The department has made the people hate the administration," said he.

Black Belt President.

Directing his remarks to President Roosevelt, he said that in the south it was believed that Mr Roosevelt when he succeeded Mr McKinley, "would make an American instead of a sectional president but a change had come over this dream. 'He is not so much an American president,' said Mr Money, 'as he is the president of the black belt,' and he added with some feeling 'we don't consider him a great American president.'

He declared that of all the appointments made in Mississippi none have given such general disgust as those made by this administration. There had been raised the question of social equality of the negro but there never could possibly be any social equality between the two races.

"There is a race prejudice in the south," he said, "and I thank God that there is."

The prejudice against the negro, he asserted is not local but prompted by a universal, world-wide sentiment. Answering Mr Foraker he said that the recent appointments had revived the race question and while the people of the south had heretofore tolerated negro office holders, they did not want any more of them.

"This is a white man's country and a white man's government," said he. "It has been carved out of the wilderness and conquered from the Indians, not for the African but for the white man."

Mr Foraker asked Mr Money if his objection to colored people holding office extended to all offices of all kinds, and also whether it would include the enlistment of colored men in the army to defend the flag and the constitution. The reply was that he had no particular objection to colored men serving in the army but declared that it would be better if no colored man had any official position whatever.

"Would you disfranchise the negro as to voting?" asked Mr Foraker, "and if so, should that be taken into account in fixing the representation in congress?"

"That is another question," answered Mr. Money.

The participation of the negro in the affairs of the government he thought was dangerous.

No Negro Office Holders.

"Is the demand of the south," inquired Mr. Spooner, "that the president of the United States shall in no case appoint a colored man to office in the south?"

Mr. Money replied that there was no demand made and no authority for it but it was the feeling in the south that no colored man, no matter what his qualification may be, shall hold federal office. The whole truth of history, he declared, shows the utter incompetence of the colored race for self-government.

Mr. Spooner remarked that a president of the United States who would yield to the demand of any section that the rights of citizenship should be surrendered would show himself unfit to hold the office and quite willing to violate his oath as president.

Mr. Money expressed the conviction that the amendment to the constitution which made negroes voters was a tremendous mistake and he said a vast number of the people of the north entertained the same view. He said there had been no objection in the south to a colored man working and none had been killed for so doing as was the case in Illinois. The feeling which obtained in the south, he said, was that if a white man did not think himself socially better than the negro he was not built as good. In the matter of appointments, Mr. Money said, the president should consider conditions in the south. Appointing negroes to office in the south was most obnoxious and repugnant to that section. It was impossible, he declared, for anyone raised north of Mason and Dixon's line to know anything about the negro.

He concluded by saying that there had been no intention of creating any disturbance whatever in Indianola, but the idea of holding a public meeting was that it would apprise the postmistress of the wishes of the citizens and that it might lead to her resignation. The basis of all the trouble, he said, was the refere system as it prevails in the south.

In Executive Session.

At 1:17 the senate went into executive session. The senate spent the first half hour of the executive session in discussion of the propriety of printing all the speeches with the Panama canal treaty, since the official reporters were admitted to the chamber last Monday. The unanimous agreement to print included only Senator Morgan's speech and Senator Cullom's closing remarks but none of the others. There was however a general understanding that if the other speeches were in order all would be printed. When the question was taken up objection was made to the printing of the speeches not included in the agreement, on the ground that they should not be given out because they pertain to executive business and some of them discuss the treaty with considerable frankness. There was no objection to the printing of the Morgan and Cullom speeches and the senate passed from the point of printing of other speeches to consideration of Cuban reciprocity treaty without deciding the matter. The discussion however, made it quite clear that comparatively little if any of the running debate would be printed.

When the Cuban treaty was laid before the senate Mr McEnery took the floor and made a speech of something more than two hours length in opposition to it. He contended that the treaty is in the interest of the Sugar trust and said that its ratification would be a direct blow at the sugar interests of the United States. The present tariff, Mr McEnery said, had greatly stimulated the sugar industry of the country and he predicted that if it should be permitted to continue in force the time would come when the United States would produce not only sufficient sugar to supply its own wants but that it would export part of the American product. In this connection he asserted that half of the states of the union are capable of producing beet sugar at a profit under proper legislature encouragement. The admission of Cuban sugar at reduced rates he said would prove a severe blow to the growth of the beet sugar industry as it would to the cane sugar production of Louisiana and Texas. Speaking of the effect on his own state of Louisiana, Mr McEnery said that practically the entire population would be affected by the approval of the treaty.

When Senator McEnery concluded Senator Newlands took the floor. His speech was notable not only because it was his maiden speech in the senate but because he appeared as an open advocate of the annexation of Cuba to the United States and also as an opponent of the treaty. As a part of his address on the point of annexation he presented the following amendment:

"The republic of the United States recognizing the intimate relationship between the republic of Cuba and itself and being desirous of still further promoting freedom of trade and strengthened bonds of amity and friendship between the people of the two countries, cordially invites the republic of Cuba to become a state of the union under the Constitution and laws of the United States."

In support of this amendment Mr Newlands said that the Democratic party should stand for traditional expansion of the Republic by promoting the voluntary annexation of Cuba through the free expression of her people and it should emphasize this position at this time by resolution to that effect. We should, he declared, give Cuba clearly and unequivocally to understand that if she wished commercial union with this country and conditions of commerce with us not enjoyed by other independent nations, she must seek political union with us in the form of annexation as part of the republic. He contended that the theory of reciprocity is wrong because it leads to favoritism, both in our dealings with foreign nations and among our own people. Furthermore, he declared the adoption of a policy of reciprocity would lead to retaliation on the part of the nations who might fail to secure the establishment of the reciprocal relations. What, for instance he asked would France, our traditional friend among nations think if we should enter upon reciprocal trade relations with Cuba and fail to ratify the treaty with her looking to the same end? He also contended that Cuba is now prosperous and that it is not necessary that her industries be encouraged by us.

Senator Spooner replied briefly to Senator Newlands, and sharply criticised his policy of annexation. He said that under the Teller resolution the political independence of Cuba had been guaranteed and that under that pledge and in respect to our own obligations this country could take no step looking to any other result. He also argued that the United States is under moral obligation to assist the people of Cuba and added that on account of the close relationship existing between the two lands, also because of their geographical proximity, the United States should lose no opportunity to strengthen the ties of commerce and friendship.

Senator Newlands challenged several of Mr. Spooner's statements, and the two engaged for a time in a spirited controversy.

Senator Teller's Opposition.

Replying to Mr. Spooner, Senator Teller repeated his opinion that the treaty was intended to benefit the Sugar trust and calculated to do incalculable injury to the sugar interests of the United States. But he urged the treaty was indefensible even if the trust would not be benefited for the reason that it would place a bounty upon the sugar products of our competitor as a sugar producer. But had as it was from his standpoint, he predicted that every Republican senator would be found voting for it. What it was that secured their support of such agreements as this and the Panama canal treaty he did not know, but he was sure not even the eloquence of a Demosthenes of the logic of a Lord Bacon would move them from their position.

Without announcing his intention to vote for or against the measure Senator Nelson criticised it strongly. He replied to Senator Spooner's contention that the United States is under obligation to aid the Cubans and said his country had certainly done all that country or nation could expected to do for another.

Senator Cullom made an effort to secure an agreement to fix a time for a vote. Senator Gorman said that he had no objection but Senators Carmack and Bailey both declared that they were unprepared for limiting the hour for taking a ballot. They practically withdrew their objections and it was tomorrow afternoon was named for voting.

During the day Senator Nelson offered an amendment placing sugar imported to Cuba in the 40 per cent reduction schedule and Senator McEnery an amendment striking out the articles of the treaty providing against any reduction on American tobaccos imported into Cuba.

The senate at 7 o'clock adjourned until 11 o'clock tomorrow.

REFUSED TO GIVE HEARING TO A MORMON ELDER

By Associated Press.

Philadelphia, March 18.—One of the meetings incidental to the annual session of the Philadelphia Methodist Episcopal church conference today was disturbed by the appearance of a Mormon elder who asked the privilege of speaking but who was rejected in a storm of hiss. The meeting was the annual gathering of the Women's Home Missionary society of the Thirteenth street church.

Dr Sarah J Elliott, formerly a medical missionary among the Mormons, was in the act of delivering an address denouncing Mormonism and polygamy when a mild looking man edged his way to the front and handed Dr Elliott a card bearing the inscription "N L Simpson, Salt Lake, Utah." The reverse side bore the Mormon declaration of principles. The card was passed to Miss J W Bridgy, president of the society, who announced the presence of a Mormon elder who desired to speak. Immediately the church was in an uproar and there were cries of "Put him out."

"I only wanted to say a word," shouted Simpson, but the sexton was called and he escorted the intruder to the street.

Miss ELIA BOURGE, of 47 Ashland Boulevard, Chicago, Ill., wrote to Dr Pierce recently, as follows:

"I am glad to be able to testify to the public what your medicine has done for me. I had been troubled with catarrh for a number of years, had used many other remedies but failed to find any change and was about to give up all hope. I at last tried your medicine and found it just what it is represented to be. I used a number of bottles of Dr Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and will say that I have not felt as well in several years. My headaches, which had become a common occurrence, have entirely disappeared as well as the burning sensation I endured through my eyes and nose. My voice has wonderfully improved since using your medicine. I would not be without it, and I shall forever give praise to your worthy medicine."
